BUFFALOES TO MEET SUL ROSS THIS WEEK END

PREDICTION OF OUTCOME IS UNCERTAIN

Buff Team Has Spent Some Time In Stiff Work Out Recently

Coach "Sad Sam" Burton and his "Tallest Basketball Team in the United States" from the West Texas State Teachers College, left Wednesday morning, by bus, to make the long journey to the Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine and open the T. I. A. A. Conference basketball race for the Thundering Herd.

Only two games of 1932 experience lay behind the Buffaloes and just what kind of a turnout the big mentor and his boys will make is uncertain. In both games, with the Southwestern Oklahoma Bulldogs, last Friday and Saturday, the Herd showed much room for improvement.

The big coach stated the two workouts Monday and Tuesday would be spent in trying to get the rough spots, shown in the two opening games, out of the way, and the squad would be in a better functioning order at the close of the week.

Last year Sul Ross came to Canyon doped to go even with the Buffaloes, if not to take the game, but the long trip probably had something to do with the failure.

This year the Canyon team makes the journey and in all probability will ride over very uncomfortable roads, due to the snow, thereby causing a tired group of boys to arrive just about in time to open the game.

For years the Lobos of Alpine have been trying to upset the Herd record against them, but so far their attempts have been unsuccessful. But, that one sided affair may change just anytime. Sul Ross will not cling to their old records much longer; there is going to be something doing down in Alpine Friday and Saturday nights.

More publicity for Palo Duro Canyon and Canyon herself will appear in a future issue of Hoofs and Horns, an Arizona range weekly magazine published at Tucson, Arizona. Complying with the request of the publishers, Secretary Fred E. Wortham of the Chamber of Commerce has sent cuts and publicity concerning the Palo Duro Canyon, to the magazine for publication.

MAYOR TOLES HERE

Mayor John Toles of Happy was here Saturday issuing invitations to the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night. He was accompanied by Editor Elton Jones, of the Happy Herald.

Buffaloes Are Bought By Dallas Syndicate

It was announced Tuesday that a syndicate of Dallas men had purchased the famous herd of Buffaloes from the Goodnight Ranch in Armstrong County, thus saving them from slaughter. A. C. Nicholson, spokesman for the syndicate states that the Buffaloes will remain on the ranch.

"The purpose of the syndicate," Nicholson stated, "is to keep the herd intact, so the work of Colonel Goodnight may be carried on and this relic may remain as a link with early Texas history."

The fight to save the herd of Buffaloes, the last of its kind in the southwest, was started last August when a proposed last hunt and slaughter was announced by the owners of the herd.

Such a strong fight was made in the Panhandle that the Texas Legislature passed a law prohibiting the killing of Buffaloes under certain ages. Plans were made for the State Game Commission to purchase the Buffaloes provided land was purchased and donated for the Buffalo range. Plans were also laid for the purchase of a portion of the Goodnight ranch, but these never materialized.

An insurance company of Dallas several days ago foreclosed a mortgage held on the ranch.

New Courses Are Offered By College

Ten new courses have been added to the list of those offered by correspondence by the West Texas State Teachers College. Seven courses in commercial subjects under the direction of Professor W. E. Lockhart are in the new list. Advanced accounting, business law, history of commerce, and shorthand are included.

Creative writing has been added to the offering of the English department. A study of personality development and a course in principles of reflective thinking are now offered by the sociology department.

These new courses have been added to meet the needs of people who are unable to attend college at the present time, and others who have greater needs and more leisure time than usual.

The extension work of the West Texas State Teachers College is self supporting, and does not add to the burdens of the tax payer.

JUDGE TURNER BELIEVES WHEAT CROP GUARANTEED

Judge J. W. Turner of UMBERGER was in the city Saturday. He states that during his residence in Randall county of 47 years he has never seen conditions so promising for a wheat crop. His observation is that when there is plenty of moisture before the first of January, a wheat crop is guaranteed for the following year. However, good spring moisture, which usually follows a wet winter, always improves the yield and the quality.

SILOS HOLD UP PRODUCTION OF MILK IN WINTER

GARNER HERD ADDED TO ASSOCIATION FOR DECEMBER.

J. P. Upchurch's Cow Leading Cow of Herd Improvement Association for the Month.

According to the December records of the Randall County Herd Improvement Association, thirty-two cows from seven herds placed on the honor roll for the month with either a production of 1,000 pounds of milk or 40 pounds of butter fat per cow.

The J. P. Upchurch herd had the leading cow in both the butter fat and the milk production for the month of December. Stub, a grade Jersey produced 1,271 pounds of milk, and Peg, another grade Jersey, produced 74.8 pounds of butterfat.

A new herd, that of C. R. Garner, was added to the association in December. Two purebred Jerseys from the herd placed on the honor roll for the first month.

Dairymen who are feeding silage from trench silos, claim that the butterfat production from their herds is being held up during the winter months over the production of previous years when they had no silos. Silos are not recommended as cure-alls for winter feeding, but are for the purpose of substituting for green pastures when pastures are not available. Seven herds in the association are being fed from trench silos.

Candidates Will Cover County by Using The News

This is political year. Randall county will have a number of candidates, none of whom have money to waste on schemes which will be presented in order that the voters may be reached. Every campaign year brings forth a number of new schemes, all intended to separate the candidate from his money, without giving him returns.

Various publications will be presented to the candidates, with the claim that they reach the voters.

Without fear of challenge, The Canyon News states that a larger percent of the actual voters of Randall county will be reached through advertising in The News than through the use of other publications, and other schemes which will be presented. The candidates must visit with the voters—that is taken for granted in each and every campaign. The News will carry the messages prepared by the candidates, at the lowest possible rate.

The News is printing this statement only for the sake of the candidates, who will be sought as victims of many promoters and publications for their announcements.

Canyon City Club Elects All Officers Mon.

Stockholders of the Canyon City Club held their annual meeting Monday afternoon and elected the following directors: Lee Foster, Dan F. Sanders, A. W. Sternenberg, C. L. Thompson, S. H. Condron, A. H. Bryant and O. W. Gano.

At the directors meeting immediately following, officers were elected. S. H. Condron will be president for 1932, A. H. Bryant, vice president; O. W. Gano, secretary and treasurer. A. H. Bryant was appointed by the president as chairman of the golf committee. Other chairmen will be named at the next regular meeting.

During the business meeting a motion was made and approved setting aside all money received on stock and all excess dues to be kept separate in the building fund until such time as the directors shall deem it the proper time to build a new club house. The building of a club house is looked forward to by the members of the organization and it is hoped that it can be built without undue delay.

PLANS MADE TO BEAUTIFY CITY THIS SPRING

PROGRAM TO INCLUDE 5-YEAR C. OF C. PROJECT

Fort Worth to Furnish Services of Expert Who Will Lecture Here

A beautification program for 1932 in Canyon is proposed and definite plans for carrying out such a program will be arranged in the near future. The move will be sponsored through the local Chamber of Commerce co-operating with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Included in the local plans will be the general outline of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce 5-year beautification plan which will get under way this spring. Also the local Chamber of Commerce hopes to establish, through the Federation of Women's clubs and the City of Canyon, a city park near the high school on some property already owned by the Chamber of Commerce.

The city of Fort Worth is furnishing the services of its forestry expert of the City Park Department and paying a part of his expenses. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is paying the rest of the expenses and his services are being offered cities in West Texas which are affiliated with the regional chamber. A number of moving picture reels and slides have been secured to assist him in giving an illustrated lecture on beautification. He is also to assist the various towns in working out a definite program.

The services for this man have been requested for Canyon by the Chamber of Commerce. The offices of the West Texas Chamber state that a schedule with dates for visits will be announced soon.

G. G. FOSTER PURCHASES G. & M. INSURANCE AGENCY

Announcement is made this week that G. G. Foster has bought the insurance business of the G. & M. Insurance Agency, formerly owned by J. D. Gamble and Mrs. Berl E. Mayfield. Mr. Foster, with this purchase, has the oldest insurance business in Canyon, and represents quite a large number of the old-line insurance companies. He has added to the lines previously handled those of the Smith Bros., and now those of the G. & M. Agency in the course of the past few weeks. His son, Robert W. Foster, is assisting him in his work.

ATTENDS WTCC MEETING IN SWEETWATER MONDAY

Fred E. Wortham returned Tuesday morning from Sweetwater where he attended a called meeting of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Plans for a membership drive and outlined plans for the year's activities of the West Texas Chamber were presented to the directorate.

A. C. Donnell Is Candidate For Sheriff

That politics in Randall County are getting well under way is certain by the increasing declarations on the part of those who intend to become candidates this election year.

A. C. Donnell, now serving as deputy sheriff of Randall County, announced Wednesday his intention of seeking the office of sheriff and tax collector subject to the action of the Democratic Primary July 23, 1932.

Mr. Donnell, a resident of the plains for 35 years and a resident of this county for more than 5 years, states that he will make the race upon his own merits and qualifications for the office which he seeks.

"In offering myself as a candidate," Mr. Donnell said yesterday, "I am fully aware of the responsibility that goes with such a position and feel sure that I am competent to handle the affairs of the office of sheriff and tax collector in Randall County."

"As to the qualifications for the office, I have had much experience in such work and feel that I am capable in every respect to fulfill the duties."

Mr. Donnell believes that he knows the conditions in the county thoroughly and is acquainted with the problems which may arise in connection with the office.

He will see all of the voters of the county within the coming months. Any support and influence on the part of his many friends over the county will be deeply appreciated, Mr. Donnell says.

Sen. Small Denies Recent Report

Reports from Austin early this week indicated that politics in the Panhandle were about to break with increasing activities. The reports claimed that Senator Clint C. Small would not make the race for governor and that Mayor Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo would make the race for congressman-at-large.

Senator Small denied the report that he had definitely decided not to run for governor, saying, "I don't know where the Austin report originated. I did not authorize it and I have given no statement to anyone in Austin. I expect to announce my plans within a week or 10 days, but at this time I have made no decision and any reports about my plans are entirely without basis or accuracy."

Mayor Thompson refused to make any statement regarding his reported candidacy for congressman-at-large.

Indications are that the Panhandle will place a few candidates in the race for the three places of congressman - at - large. Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, noted woman writer and club worker, active over the state for a number of years, announced last week her intentions of making the race. Senator Pink Parrish of Lubbock declared a few days ago that it was his intention to make the race for a place as congressman-at-large.

Mrs. J. A. Hill Returns From Club Meeting

Mrs. J. A. Hill returned Wednesday night from the Board Meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs which was held at Austin on January 11.

Reporting on her trip, Mrs. Hill said that the plan for the program in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the Permanent Headquarters had to be changed because of a down pour of rain, so that ex-governor Pat M. Neff and other speakers were heard indoors.

A member of the State Health Department said that the death rate in Texas Panhandle is so low that people in other sections of the state and country constantly question the authenticity of his reports. He urged that club women of the Panhandle counties carefully gather the statistics so that his reports may have double verification.

The State Federation of Women's Clubs is urging every person, and particularly every woman to pay poll tax this year in order to vote in the elections which promise to be very important.

WATSON HOME BURNS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watson, west of the Canyon public school, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin Sunday morning at 3:30. No personal belongings or furniture was saved, but the damage to the house was covered by insurance.

DAMAGE SUIT OPENS TRIAL YESTERDAY

FIELDS CASE STILL IN HANDS OF JURY TODAY

Damage Suit Was Tried In County Court Yesterday; Third Indictment Returned

The $100,000.00 damage suit of Kelley Grimes vs. the Continental Oil Company opened in the District Court session here yesterday afternoon. It is not expected that the jury will receive the case before late today or possibly tomorrow.

The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident which occurred west of Canyon in June 1930.

The jury in the H. C. Fields case was still out this morning. The case went to the jury shortly before noon Wednesday. Fields is charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

For the second time the case of the State of Texas vs. George Johnson resulted in a hung jury. Edgar Thomas, charged with theft on the John Weynes place northeast of town was tried in the district court this week and given a suspended sentence of 5 years. Another case, charging him with burglary of the Palo Duro Cafe, is yet on the docket.

Geo. Nelson and Burnett Chowning, each drew a 5 year suspended sentence on the charge of burglary of the Black Lantern cafe in south Amarillo. The case was tried Tuesday.

A third indictment was returned by the Grand Jury on Saturday and the jury is in session again today.

The case of the State of Texas vs. Frank Crutchfield, known as the White Deer Bank Robbery case was continued until the next term of court. Continuance was made on the grounds that the star witness was seriously ill.

The suit of J. L. Molner vs. O. T. Rowdy, appealed from the Justice Court of precinct 4, was tried in the county court before Judge S. B. Orton Wednesday afternoon. A judgment had not been rendered early today.

Public Speaking Class Begins Work Monday

A class in public speaking especially for business men got under way Monday night with C. W. Batchelder of the college public speaking department in charge.

Six business men enrolled and several others who were unable to be present that night sent word that they would join the class. So great is the need for training in public speaking that three business men from nearby towns have written that they wish to join the class.

It is not yet too late for others who are interested to come into the class and the next meeting will be held next Monday night in room 312 of the Education Building at the college. The business men who have joined the class chose the place of meeting because the room is provided with a small stage and because all of them wanted to get as far away as possible from their everyday affairs during the class hour.

It is stated by college authorities that others who are interested in becoming members of the class may get information from Mr. Batchelder, the Bureau of Public Service at the college, or from Fred Wortham at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

Fees for the course as offered by the local college will not be more than $12.00 per person, and will be reduced to $10.00 per person if 15 or more join the class. Mr. Wortham pointed out that recently an instructor from out of town tried to organize a class of this kind and demanded a guarantee of $500.00.

If this class is a success it will mean that other subjects will be made available to townspeople at hours when they can take work.

The boom for Speaker John Garner of Texas was augmented considerably by the announced support of William Randolph Hearst, the largest publisher in the United States. People of Texas have not become particularly enthused over the prospects of John Garner as a candidate for president on the Democratic ticket. For so long a time it has been taken for granted that no one from the Southwest has a chance at the chief executive's office in Washington. But John Garner has characteristics which entitle him to more than passing consideration. He has been mixed up in the National political "mess" of the fight within the Democratic party to such an extent as to be openly rejected by either the wets or the dries. He is a hard working, cool conservative man, coming from the common folk, and speaking the language of the farmer and ranchman, who have been having plenty of trouble since the close of the war. The more you think about the possibilities of John Garner as a candidate for president, the more you are convinced that he would be of that timber. In the meanwhile, the Speaker says he has plenty of work to do holding down his present office to be spending time thinking about the president's office. At least that is one good argument in his favor as a presidential candidate.

The Goodnight ranch has been sold under the hammer, and is now out of the Staley control, who sought to make it a state park. What is to become of the herd of buffalo is yet to be decided. The legislature passed a bill authorizing the Game, Fish and Oyster department to buy the herd at such time that the people of the state provided suitable grounds. An organization was formed to buy the ranch, but its size made the proposal out of reach so far as money was concerned in times like these. The herd may yet be saved, if a smaller tract of land can be secured for the state. The game department would like to establish the largest game preserve in Texas in Northwest Texas, and desired the Goodnight ranch for this purpose. With the ranch sold into other hands, there is yet the problem of financing a smaller tract for the herd of buffalo.

A few years ago the assault upon the public official of most any country would have meant immediate war. Time has changed conditions considerably. It was unfortunate that three Japanese soldiers should attack and beat up an official of the United States diplomatic corps. Japan should apologize and punish the soldiers, but there is nothing in the case to provoke war, such as would have been the case in yesteryears. Perhaps the world has really learned something from the disastrous world war.

Word from Austin indicates that Governor Sterling will announce for a second term during this week, and that "Ma" Ferguson will immediately announce. Others will likely enter the campaign, not including Senator Clint Small, whose friends believe that Mrs. Ferguson will lead the ticket, and Governor Sterling will be a close second. It is practically impossible to eliminate from the second primary the candidate for Governor seeking the second term. A place for the Fergusons is admitted by all. Senator Small is expected to seek a second term from this district as state senator. These predictions may have become true before The News reaches its readers this week.

Prediction is made that should the railroads continue to lose money on account of bus and truck competition, the government will soon have to take charge of them. In this case, deplorable operating schedules would be instigated, as in war times. Furthermore, the cities, school districts, and counties and states would no longer receive taxes upon the property. With all this in mind, it is easy to understand why recent legislation was passed favoring the railroads as against the trucks and busses. America cannot well afford to see the railroads pass from private ownership to government ownership. This is to say nothing of the loss to the bond holders and those who own the railroads.

Don't make fun of the candidate, or impose upon him during the campaign. Too often local, as well as state and national candidates are made the butt of many jokes, and all kinds of schemes are proposed to discredit him. No voter can support all of the candidates, but just to be opposed to the candidate is no excuse for attempting to discredit him without cause. The safety of democracy depends entirely upon the class of candidate who offer for office.

The crop of millionaires have decreased about 300 per cent the past two years. Just being a millionaire is no ticket to the realm of happiness and independence. The bigger they are the harder they fall when falling time comes. With out experience the past few months, we're pretty well pleased that we did not have a million to see vanish into the clear blue sky.

Candidates for congress-man-at-large will have to do their campaigning for the first primary only. There will be no run-off in August for this office. For the three places, there will likely be a dozen or more candidates. If West Texas expects additional representatives in the national congress, voters must stay with West Texas candidates.

Congratulations to L. D. and Mollie Shaw, Higgins News publishers, whose newspaper was 34 years old January 1st, and who have been in charge of the Higgins News for 26 years. They have served Higgins long and faithfully, publishing one of the most interesting newspapers in the Panhandle.

When the wind is high, and the dust rolls in West Texas, all of us become rather disgusted to live here. But compare this with those unfortunates who live in the Mississippi valley, who see their property destroyed at frequent intervals, and this section becomes a paradise.

Representative Patton of Texas would impeach Secretary Andrew Mellon. If his charges are true, the congressman stands a good chance of winning an impeachment vote. If they are not true, the charge of playing politics will be the sum of Patton's endeavor.

ANNIE LAURIE

It is Annie Laurie to whom tourists pay reverence when they visit in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, Calif., the reproduction of the "Wee Kirk in the Heather," the church the heroine of this oldest and sweetest of love songs is said to have attained at Glencairn, near her Scottish home. But 'tis William Douglass, her devoted lover and author of the original version of the poem, to whom honors are due.

Anna Laurie, stripped of Douglass' adoring poetry and the lilting music which we all know, was but a braw Scotch lassie after all, with a "rolling eye" and but little sense of duty. Born in 1682, at Maxwell-ton house, Glencairn, she grew up to be the most charming and provocative young lady in all Dumfriesshire. How William Douglass felt about her he wrote down for all the world to sing. In spite, however, of her "promise true" of which he boasted in his song, Annie married one Alexander Ferguson while William was off to the wars. As the wicked often do, she flourished, even to her eighty-second year!

Douglass has been as unlucky as a poet as he was in love. Bereft of his Annie Laurie, he was eventually bereft also of his song. The original version had but two verses. The version familiar today is a modern adaptation by Lady John Scott.

Chapel

The chapel program Thursday was in charge of Professor Sheffy, the head of the History department of the West Texas State Teachers College. Professor Sheffy made a talk on local history.

In his talk Professor Sheffy showed many old articles used by the explorers, Indians and early settlers of the Panhandle. Among these articles was a pair of Mexican handcuffs, probably left on the Plains in the seventeenth century by some of Coronado's exploring party. The first of the Plains or the Southwest, "The Six-Shooter," was shown along with a Buffalo Gun formerly the property of the late Colonel Charles C. Goodnight. This Buffalo Gun is very heavy and the barrel is very long. Another interesting article was a cow hide lariat used by some of the first cowboys of the Plains. A pair of Spanish bridle bits many years old that were found on the Canadian river were also shown by Professor Sheffy.

Professor Sheffy is field secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, and in his speech he extended the invitation to any person or group of persons to come to the room which houses the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, promising that he would show them through it, explaining as many things as possible.

Lost and Found Dept. Is Well Run by Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Thistle troop No. two are keeping the Lost and Found case for Canyon High School. The case is kept under lock and key in the English room. The case is opened at 8:30 and runs until 8:55. At noon the case is opened at 12:20 and runs until 12:50. It is kept open ten minutes after school.

The Girl Scouts take turns at keeping the case. Robbie Lee Foster has charge of the shifts that are made. At the present time the Girl Scouts require a full description, and the brand of the lost article. This is done so that everything can be accounted for very easily. Anyone who finds a lost article, turns it in to the Girl Scouts. From there every possible effort is used to find the owner.

The Girl Scouts are carrying the work on with very reliable and efficient management.

UPCHURCH SPEAKS TO VOCATIONS CLASS

A number of talks have been given in the Vocations class this year by various business men of Canyon. Mr. Upchurch spoke last Thursday on Agriculture.

He defined the difference between a farmer and an agriculturist by saying that the agriculturist is one who stands on the street corner and gives the farmer advice.

A vocation, Mr. Upchurch said, is an occupation that you study and prepare for, to follow through life, therefore I do not like to hear agriculture spoken of as a vocation because nearly every vocation in the world is in some way related to agriculture.

When choosing a vocation, Mr. Upchurch suggests that each person follow his preference first, his personal satisfaction second and last, his adaptability for the vocation.

Some men seem to think the "good old days" were those when they earned five dollars a day and spent six.

Canyon Eagles Defeat Pampa In Fast Game

The Eagles came out of their losing streak, as the New Year came in, and defeated the mighty Pampa Harvesters 24 to 23. The Purple girls and the second team were not as lucky, losing their games by small margins. The Harvester girls won 22 to 10, the Pampa B team acquired 27 points to 20 for the tiny Canyon team.

The Harvesters were perhaps a bit over-confident, but intent upon making it three straight wins over the Eagles. For a time it looked as if their hopes were to be realized. A few minutes before the half the score stood eight to sixteen in their favor. But accurate shooting and efficient defense on the part of the Eagles made the score 16 to 12 at the half. Pearson scored 8 of Canyon's points in the first half, and Cone, guard, and Wright, center, each placed a goal. Enloe, yellow and green forward, shot 5 goals, Marbaugh, lanky center, 2, and Kelley, guard, placed one to give 16 points. Of the 28 points made not one resulted from a free shot.

The teams fought evenly and kept the ball and players in action all of the time. When there were only a few minutes left to play the score was 17 to 19 for Pampa. A beautiful shot by Wooten, sub for Harden, tied the score. This brought the crowd to their feet and everybody stood for the rest of the game. Pampa scored two more points but a free goal from Wright cut their lead only one point. Pearson placed a beautiful goal to give the Eagles one point lead, their first lead of the game.

This was quickly overcome by Pampa making the score 23 to 22 for Pampa. With all the splendid defense of the Harvesters, Cone made a field goal, placing the Eagles again in the lead, and the game ended before either side could score again. Score 24-23 for the Eagles.

Enloe, of the Harvesters, was high point man, scoring 14 of his team's 23 points. His place was hotly contested by Pearson, Canyonite, with 13 points to his credit.

The girls' team put up a good fight. The four Eagle forwards used in the game scored. Schmitz was the highest with 4 points. Robinson, forward for the visitors accounted for 16 of their 22 points.

The B Eagles were outclassed by the large Pampa seconds, but their playing made up for a lot of it. Wesley "Spec" Williams, tiny Eagle guard played a wonderful game with his great handicap, scoring 6 points. The guards were careless, however, allowing several unnecessary goals. The guards scored 11 of the points, Thomas, forward 2, and Campbell, center 7.

Pool, center of the opponents, was high point man with 13 points. This game was a fine chance to test the reserve strength of the two teams.

TWO GAMES SCHEDULED FOR THIS WEEK

The games scheduled by the Eagles with the city neighbors come in rapid succession, both in Canyon. The Lubbock Westerners are due here Thursday night, Jan. 14, and the Golden Sandstorm sweeps down from Amarillo the following night. Eagles won over the Pampa Harvesters, Thursday night by the score of 24-23 and they are striving for as good a score over these two teams. The Harvesters meet the Sandstorm Saturday night and were defeated. The players of the Hub city have not met with any teams around here, but because of the quality of their previous teams they are sure to have a good one. Be out to see these games as they will be among the last home games.

Freshman Are Proud of Year's Achievements

The Freshman class of Canyon High School are proud of the fact that they have the large enrollment of 83.

At the first of the year the Freshman were delighted with the new freedom of going to lockers in between periods and going up and down new halls. The first few weeks were spent in becoming acquainted with teachers and subjects.

The Freshman class had two boys come out and made second string in football. The Fish put Mary May Harrison, their football queen in third place. Three girls of the Freshman class have made the basketball team, one freshman has made the second team in basketball.

The officers which they elected are: Robert Orton, president; Johnnie Wilson, vice-president; Mabel Schmitz, secretary and treasurer; Mary Ella Lowe, class reporter. The freshman class has the last half of the year in which to accomplish more.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Domestic Art club has decided to change its program. One group of the members has been working on projects, while the other group gave a program. The members changed the program to working at one meeting and having a program at the other two. At the next meeting they plan to make splatter prints.

The street car conductor's change was running short. A young mother with an infant in her lap handed him a half dollar.

Conductor: "Is that the smallest you have?"

Young Mother: "I've only been married a year."

Oressa Hastings has a record of three A's and two B's, while Maudena Bishop shows three B's and two A's.

Martha Ann Kiersey, who is attending Amarillo Business College shows a card of five A's.

The high school is proud of this unusual showing made by last year's seniors.

WHITE DEER GAME POSTPONED

The White Deer Bucks could not make it to the Eagles' nest on January 5, because of bad weather, but this game will be played January 19. Unless a game is scheduled with Hereford this is the last one to be played at home. The Bucks are returning a game, the first one of which they lost to the Eagles. The girls' team will endeavor to make it two straight over the girls representing the purple and white. The teams should show much better form as their first game was the opening game of the season.

Pantomimes were given in Dramatics club January 11. Those who presented pantomimes were: Mary Ella Lowe, brushing teeth; Robert Black, shaving; Arnet Kirkpatrick, receiving a guest; Irene Thompson, telephoning.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
FRED E. WORTHAM, Secretary

Herewith is a code which every citizen of Canyon should take home to himself.

MY DEBT TO MY CITY

"The city of Canyon owes me nothing. If accounts were balanced I would be the debtor. Haven't I lived within the limits of the city and shared all of its benefits? Haven't I had the benefits of its schools and churches? Haven't I had the protection of fire and police departments? Haven't its people, during all this time been gathering for me, from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body and material for my home? Hasn't this city furnished the patronage by which I have succeeded in my business or profession? Hasn't it furnished the best friends of my life, whose kind words have been my cheer and whose helpfulness has carried me over my greatest difficulties?"

"What shall I give in return? Not simply the taxes which cover so small a part of what I have received. I want to give more; I want of my own free will, to give enough so that I can respectfully say, 'This is my city.' So that I can take pride in 'my city'; so that I can take pride in its prosperity, in the honors which come to its citizens, and all that makes it greater and better."

"I can do this only by becoming a part of the city—by giving to it generously of myself. In this way only can I, even in a small part, pay the great debt I owe to Canyon. In the Chamber of Commerce I have my chance, and I welcome it."

I will join other loyal Canyon citizens in the pledge of loyalty:

"I hereby pledge my every effort to bring honor, rather than dishonor, upon my city; to uphold and not tear down its ideals, objects, traditions and institutions and to try, by every word and deed, to quicken the public sense of civic duty, so that I may help to leave to posterity a better city than I found upon entering."

"THEY"

"THEY" ought to do something about the grade crossing where the whole family was wiped out yesterday.

"THEY" ought to clean up the streets and alleys in this town.

"THEY" ought to see about paving the streets and building sidewalks.

"THEY" ought to get more factories and industries located here.

"THEY" ought to be doing something towards improving living conditions in this town.

"THEY" ought to build more churches and schoolhouses.

"THEY" ought to provide better fire protection, and obtain reduction in insurance rates.

"THEY" ought to get the people to paint up this property, plant more shrubbery and beautify their premises.

Do you know why "THEY" are not doing all of these worth-while things?

"THEY" are waiting for YOU to do something; waiting for YOU to use a little of YOUR time and energy; waiting for YOU to loosen the strings of your pocket book a little and aid in the civic enterprises of the community.

YOU are one of the representative men in your community. What have YOU done?

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Juvenile delinquency is again in the spotlight.

A fifteen-year-old Houston boy recently surrendered to Houston officers, a self-confessed murderer. Study of the history of his case fixes upon society much of the responsibility for his crime.

He is the third of three children to become wards of the state. He lived his life in an atmosphere of constant bickering and strife. He lived with his father in a home where another woman had usurped his mother's place; and his mother lived in the house next door where hot words could conveniently be exchanged. He heard his father's mistress curse and conspire against his mother. And then he tried to kill the woman who seemed to be the source of all his trouble.

He was the victim of his environments. Fortunately he was born two years too late to pay the supreme penalty for his crime. His youth saves him from the chair.

But what of society's responsibility in the matter? Is this an isolated, or a typical case of circumstances that lead to juvenile criminality and delinquency? And what are we going to do about it?

The time has come when Texas laws that are presumed to protect children against such conditions should be carefully scrutinized. Something is amiss, when an affair like this can lift its head in the midst of a civilized Texas community.

AMERICANISM SAVED BY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

During the past twenty years the public schools have practically eliminated illiteracy and materially raised the general level of intelligence.

They have supervised the health and safety of the Nation's children to a much greater extent than ever before, and to their great good.

They have absorbed the great flood of immigration which inundated the country, and kept it American.

Through courses in vocational education they have prepared young people for specific trades and have increased the earning power of those thus educated.

Our great advance in material prosperity can be ascribed in part to the higher educational levels and thinking to which the work of the public schools has raised the masses.—Roger W. Babson.

A GLORIFIED ROBBER

DAYTIME FROCKS MAY EASILY BE CONVERTED INTO AFTERNOON OUTFITS AND WINTER COATS INTO SPRING COATS

BY HARRIET

QUITE in the spirit of these recent trenchment days are the new costumes bobbing up everywhere that can be used a couple of ways to look like two different costumes.

There are soft wool dresses that apparently button clear up to the round neckline for daytime, very simple indeed for office and school wear. Unbutton the little uppers, wear a fragile blouse underneath and you have a dressy little afternoon outfit.

Newest of the new are the early spring coats that two-time by having fur touches that snap on and off. Wear them with their fur on and they are wintry enough for a snow scene. Unsnap their fur collars or collarettes and cuffs and you have a lovely spring coat with simple, plain neckline and sleeves.

One of these is a Spanish tile soft tweed coat that is made fitted, buttoning at the waistline in a double-breasted effect. It has simple round neckline with revers laid back easily and no collar. But—there is a tremendously chic cape collar with fox fur that snaps onto this plain little coat that makes it something else again, a dressy and a wintry coat for right now.

It has cuffs or rather patches of the fur that fasten on to the sleeve, converting it into a dressy affair, not a tailored one. Worn with one of the new little Florentine hats, you couldn't find a dressier afternoon outfit. Worn without the collar and fur cuffs, and with a Spanish tile small turban or plain brimmed sports hat and you have a nonchalant, casual coat for daytime wear with sports clothes or spring dresses.

A NEW convertible dress comes in rich brown crepe, of the new sheer variety. It uses deep dune cotton Venise lace for a deep skirt flounce and lovely long-glove length sleeves. The jacket in which the

Uncle Sam Should Win a Track and Field Championship at the 1932 Olympic Games in Los Angeles if an Imposing List of Flashy Stars Is Any Criterion

BY PHILIP MARTIN

AS regularly, with some exceptions, as a new president is elected to sit in grief at Washington, athletes of all nations come together for their international conclave known as the Olympic games. They will be held in Los Angeles this year, the first time the United States has been the host since the 1904 contests in St. Louis.

As a prelude to the big international affair on the coast, the tenth Olympiad in 36 years, the third Olympic winter games will be staged in February at Lake Placid, N. Y. More than 20 nations are sending teams of speed and figure ice skaters, ski jumpers and ski racers and bobsledding and hockey combinations. For all I know, they may put on some international snowball fights. Why not?

We're going to win a track and field championship at Los Angeles, in spite of any pessimistic yarns you may have heard about our chances. My personal belief is that the United States team will show greater strength than she did in the American games of 1928.

The boys won team honors in Holland, but they couldn't travel fast enough in the flat races. Ray Barbuti, the big Syracuse beauty, captured the 400-meter race and his teammates took a few relay races, but for the most part Uncle Sam's edge was in the field events.

It ought to be different at Los Angeles, although I understand the foreign entry is even stronger than before. For one thing, the boys will be running at home, so to speak. There won't be any long boat trip races across an ocean with only a few days in which to get back their running legs on the other side. They will be on the scene in plenty of time to get accustomed to California sunshine and water. That ought to be an item in their favor, and a big one, too.

I'm seriously doubting that any foreign sprinters can stay with Frank Wykoff, Edmie Tolan and Emmett Toppino, Uncle Sam's fleet trio. These speed boys, with George Simpson, Cy Leland, Claude Bracey, or any one of three or four others, will threaten Olympic and world records every time they toe their marks in the sprint relays, too.

Uncle Sam boasts class in the 400-meter run and the 1600-meter relay. His ace is Vic Williams, Southern California flyer who tied a 15-year-old world record in the 440-yard dash last spring. Williams will get aid and no little competition from Ben Eastman, the Habes brothers, Ike and Abe, Maynor Shove and Art Woessner, all from the Pacific Coast, and Reggie Bowen, Horace Steele and, maybe two or three others from the Atlantic side.

At 800 meters, the United States has Ed Genuyn, the same Eastman, Russell Chapman, Dale Letts, Orval Martin and several lesser known, but just as speedy, runners. And at 1500 meters, there will be Leo Larmond, Ray Conger, Carl Coan, Gene Venke and two or three others capable of doing the mile in 4:15 or under.

Uncle Sam doesn't figure to do much in some of the longer runs. But in the steeplechase, don't let anyone tell you that Joe McChaskey, Clark Chamberlains, Bill Zapp and Henry Brocksmit won't have a chance.

WHICH ARE YOU DOING?

A town cannot grow and prosper without the support of its citizens. If you want to kill your home town spend your money some where else; if you want your town to grow spend it with the local merchants. If they do not have what you want they will be glad to get it for you. Try them.

When your local merchants do not prosper then your town goes backwards for they are the ones who keep it up by supporting the schools, churches and other civic enterprises, and when their property decreases in value by non-support then all surrounding property decreases in proportion.

Business in other towns lend no aid to anything that might come lost.

CANYON BOOK CLUB DISCUSSES FRANCE WEDNESDAY

The Canyon book club had as its subject this week "France," with Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick, Mrs. J. B. Gamble and Mrs. Wesley Kleinschmidt discussing "The High Lights of French History," "The Cathedrals of France" and "Characteristics of the French People."

At the business session a report from City Federation stated that 54 families and 85 children had received Christmas cheer through the work of the organizations making up the Federation. The assistance of Supt. Irby Caruth and the public school children and faculty was especially commended.

ROBINSON CRUSOE

It is because Daniel Defoe was a good newspaper man, able to see the "story" in a current news yarn concerning the rescue of a marooned sailor from a desert island that we have today that universal favorite, "Robinson Crusoe."

The yarn upon which he based his book was about one Alexander Selkirk, English mariner, born at Largo, Fifeshire, who early went into privateering in the South Seas and by 1704 had earned promotion to command of the good ship Cinque Ports. As the result of a quarrel with his captain, he was at his own request set ashore at Juan Fernandez, a tiny island some 350 miles west of the coast of Chile, where he lived for four years and four months, much, perhaps, as did the character he inspired. He was finally rescued by Capt. Woods Rogers and returned to civilization. At the time of his death Selkirk had attained rank of lieutenant on H. M. S. Weymouth.

Not only was it his story upon which Defoe built "Robinson Crusoe," but Juan Fernandez is today frequently known as Crusoe's island, and boasts not only many of the very umbrella trees that figure in the story, but a Crusoe's cave, and, near the summit of its highest mountain, Selkirk's Look-out, a tablet, placed there in 1868 in honor of the original Robinson Crusoe.

Woman Leads to Gang Capture

Eight alleged members of a kidnaping syndicate of widespread activity are in the custody of police because one of their number fell in love with Mrs. Georgia Gecht, shown above with her husband, Dr. Max Gecht, who was one of the gang's victims. After the gang had released Mr. and Mrs. Gecht upon payment of ransom by the former, one of the gangsters, Gus Sanger, made a date with her. Mrs. Gecht, and police, kept the date. Sanger's confession resulted in a round-up.

MISTLETOE KISS COMES FROM OLD DRUIDIC LEGEND

At last the historians have been able to clear up the mystery of the bewitching custom of kissing under the mistletoe. Their researches, as revealed by Prof. Lucy Hubbell, carry the matter clear back to the Druids.

"Mistletoe was considered an antidote for poison and an all-healer," writes Miss Hubbell. "The Druids, priests of ancient Britain, walked oak forests barefoot in search of the sacred plant. Their white robes gleamed, their golden sickles flashed as sprays of the pearl-berried parasite came tumbling down thru the gloom and were caught in an outspread cloth. Nothing so crass as iron or human hand was ever allowed to touch the holy mistletoe, only gold and pure homespun.

"But after the more joyous Christianity had dispelled the old, gloomy religion, mistletoe became a merrier plant. Embracing under the mistletoe is of British origin, and the Derbyshire 'kissing bunch,' was a very fanciful affair. A pair of hoops were thrust through one another ball wise, then laced with ivy and holly. Gay ribbons, paper roses, oranges, apples and three little dolls—Joseph, Jesus and His Mother—dangled amid the greenery; and at the bottom was tied the mirth-making mistletoe. The 'bunch' hung at the center of the living room, and so long as a berry remained, man and maid might kiss, but for every salute one berry must be plucked off."

"IN THE SCHOOL OF ADVERSITY"

Those who learn in the school of adversity are apt pupils. Many valuable lessons are impressed upon the mind and when properly applied help to build a firm, substantial prosperity.

Adversity is the true test of friendship—it is the acid test. It weeds out the flatterers and throws the spotlight on friendship.

In adversity a man may lose his friendship, his money and his business but if he keeps his self confidence he is up before he is down.

Business depression is not a good thing for any country. It is the test of fire and only the courageous survive. Business depressions help business to build upon a firmer foundation—they separate the chaff from the wheat and point the way to success.

BEING UNJUST UNJUSTLY
Industry's migration to Canada is a pretty good illustration of what happens when too many artificial barriers are erected in the path of commerce.

Taxes are such a barrier. And in Texas, although discrimination is a thing that industry abhors, taxation tends to become more and more discriminatory. We don't even take the precaution to soften our excesses with artistry.

We practice injustice unjustly. For instance, it would not be so inconsistent if, having determined to impose upon natural resources industries an inequitable portion of the tax burden, we prorated the burden among them equitably. But what have we done?

We take from the petroleum industry fifty-two per cent of our total tax revenues, and let rock-asphalt travel on a pass. We tax two or three sulphur companies to the same extent as the combined railroads of the state. We impose a production tax upon natural gas, and permit the lumber barons to deplete our forests without so much as a "by your leave."

This inconsistency has been extended to other fields. We determined to assess a considerable portion of the state's bill for education against smokers; but we singled out the man who smokes cigarettes, while he who prefers a cigar or pipe laughs up his sleeve. Many of the consequences of discrimination and injustice can be escaped if the practice is artfully and justly indulged. But if we persist in being unjust unjustly, we are apt to pay a price in deferred development and prosperity.

Job was a patient man, but he never cranked a Ford on a cold morning.

Uncle Tommy Clark Receives Unusual Christmas Gifts

When a man achieves something worth while, does he not always think of those who have been with him and helped and inspired him when he was struggling to gain his goal? When Uncle Tommy Clark was president of Bay View College of Portland, Texas, he kept in his home two boys who were students of his in the college, Tom Powers and Ralph Bradford. This Christmas Uncle Tommy received from each of these boys autographed copies of their latest books.

Each Christmas Ralph Bradford puts out a bound copy of a Christmas story. This Christmas, his story is "The White Way," which he sent Uncle Tommy. Mr. Bradford is a graduate of Bay View College and also a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is now manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce besides being a poet of some distinction. He is employed as a lecturer for some years by the Chautauqua Lyceum. For five years he was secretary to the South Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bradford is a native of Pennsylvania but claims Texas as his home state. His home is now in Washington, D. C.

Tom Powers is among the world's great actors; also, he distinguished himself in the aviation service during the World War. He has written several books and plays; the latest one, which he sent Uncle Tommy, is "In The Trenches—On The Trenches—What Ho, And Away We Go," a monologue written and broadcasted for the benefit of the down-and-out. Every week Mr. Powers broadcasts by radio an original monologue for the same purpose. Mr. Powers is also a skilled artist and musician, besides being one of the best known and most successful of present-day actors. His home is in New York City, where most of his work is done, as he rarely goes on the road. He was recently invited to Houston, Texas as guest artist of the Little Theater of that city. He is a native of Kentucky.

ENTHUSIASM GREATEST BUSINESS ASSET

It beats money, power and influence.

Enthusiasm tramples over prejudice and opposition; spurs inaction; storms the citadel of its object and like an avalanche, overwhelms and engulfs all obstacles. Enthusiasm is FAITH in action.

Set the germ of enthusiasm afloat in your business. It will spread like contagion and influence every fiber of your industry before you realize it.

It will increase production and decrease costs. It will speed up sales for you and those you sell.

It will produce bed rock results—the vital things that pay dividends.—S. P. Leeder.

Amarillo Zone of Epworth League Meets Here Sunday

The Amarillo zone of the Epworth League held its regular monthly meeting at the Methodist Church here Sunday evening at 6:30. Those present represented four Methodist churches of Amarillo and the local Methodist Church.

The program consisted of a worship service conducted by Mabel Moore of Canyon, and afterwards talks on different departments of the League were made by both the visitors and members of the local organization. Punch was served to the visitors after the various committees had held their sessions. Approximately 75 young people were present, and of these about fifty were from Amarillo. The next monthly meeting will be held at the San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo, February 14.

Plans were made by the committees for the district Epworth League rally to be held here January 23 and 24. The program for the rally, as far as it has been worked out, includes a dinner Saturday evening, January 23. This will be followed by a devotional program and then by a recreational hour. A sunrise service is planned for Sunday morning, and regular Sunday School services will be attended by the delegates in a body. After the 11:00 services the delegates will turn homeward. Miss Bess Williams of the Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo is to preside, and from 150 to 200 delegates are expected in all.

Final Enrollment Figures Reveal Small Net Loss

According to the latest figures available from the Registrar's office, enrollment for the winter quarter shows an unusually small decrease over that of the fall quarter. Registrar Shirley says that ordinarily the number of students in the college falls off sharply at the end of the fall term, the number of new students failing to compensate for those who are forced to drop out.

At the last count seventy-five new students had registered, and of these thirty-three had never been enrolled here before. One hundred and seven students who were in this institution last quarter did not return, but of these sixteen were six-week students and were not expected to return this term.

It is unlikely that any more students will enroll this quarter.

Malone Is Invited to Help Organize Library in Pampa

Another proof of the efficiency of the College library was furnished during the past week when Miss Tennessee Malone, head librarian, was invited to go to Pampa to assist in installing new rules and regulations for the municipal library there.

The Pampa public library was recently reorganized and placed on a tax-supporting basis. It has been in existence for the past two years, during which time it was supported by private contributions of books and money and by the efforts of individuals. Under the new plan the library will have about $2,100 of which to operate during the coming year. It already has quite a collection of books.

Many libraries throughout the Panhandle are managed on systems modeled after that used in W. T., due largely to the fact that many students are taking courses in library science. Miss Malone has accepted the invitation to help organize the Pampa library and to Pampa Friday morning. She returned Saturday.

STILL HE DIED!

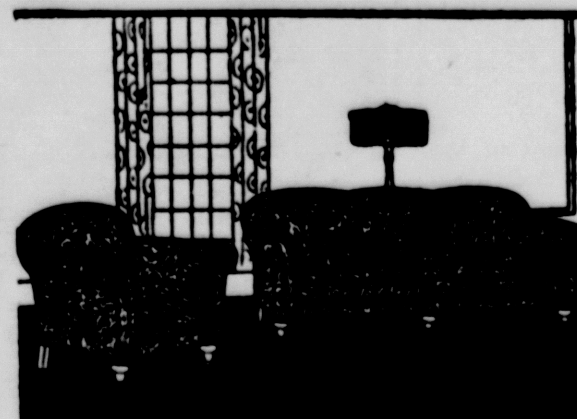

After a temperance lecture in Scotland, one of the audience tarried and greeted the anemic speaker as follows:

"Did I understand ye to say ye never took a drink in a yer life?"

"Yes, sir, liquor has never passed my lips."

"Weel, sir, me old man now dead was a bit o' a drinker a' his life, an three days after he died he was a healthier looking man than you are now."

A HOME Is As Young Or Old As It Looks!

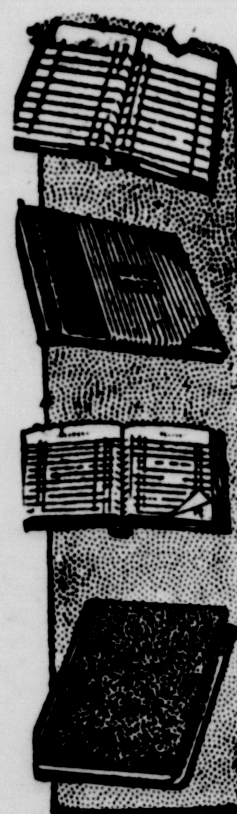

You, personally, may be as old as you feel. But not your home! Your home is as young or old as it looks. And the younger it looks, the more pleasant and comfortable it is. The more homelike it is! "Yet," you say, "I must take my home the way it is. Whatever its shortcomings, I cannot change it. I cannot afford to." On the contrary, you cannot afford not to. Because the cost of bringing your home up to date, of giving back its lost youth, is much lower than you could ever imagine. Today, with the prices of materials and labor down to bedrock, you can have remodeling done for the proverbial pittance.

BUFFALOES WIN FROM SOONERS LAST WEEK

SOUTHWESTERN CAGERS GIVE BUFFS STIFF BATTLE

Come of W. T. Is High Point Man With Curb of Okla., A Close Second

Coach "Bad Sam" Burton's Buffaloes opened their 1932 basketball campaign by taking a two game series from the Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers 34-22 and 23-15 Friday and Saturday nights. As the Thundering Herd was playing its first engagements, they failed to find the going very easy and by no means did the old machine work to a perfection. In both games the Sooner State boys led the Buffaloes time after time, until victories looked hopeless for awhile. Neither team could tell which would win until the final gun was fired, and it looked for a while as if the Buffaloes might not get off with their hides.

The first game was played on a rather even basis. The Buffaloes had been riding all day and were rather tired for a game, but their hopes ran high. There was a merry chase all through the encounter.

Game is Tight
The scores ran, during the first few minutes, 2-1, 4-1, 4-3, 5-5, in the Buffaloes' favor. From then on, however, the Buffaloes took the lead and ended the half 14-9. Although threatening several times during the remainder of the game by getting within four points, the Buffaloes failed to catch the Bison boys.

Come, Buff forward, was high point man with 16 marks to his credit. Curb, Oklahoma hot-shot guard led second with nine points.

During the second encounter it appeared as if the Southwestern team wasn't going to have much respect for the T. I. A. A. champs of last year. Their playing attack began at once, and scores started rolling in for them. Although six minutes passed before there was a score, the Buffaloes finally hit the basketball ring for eight points.

Buff Lag in Second Game
For 14 minutes the Buffaloes were unable to hit the hoop, and for the first time in quite a while they had to withdraw from the court at the half carrying the short end of an 8-6 counter.

Coming into the game during the Herd began to show its old form and took the lead. Twice the score was tied 11-11 and 15-15, but from there on only the Buffs made baskets.

In the first game the regulars, Come, Colvin, Fortenberry, Burk and Clark carried the game over, but in the second the Big Coach saw fit to substitute. In the first game Colvin received an injury to his eye and the Coach thought best not to take any chances. Frank Monroe took his place and played okeh for his first this year. "Buffalo" Morris substituted for Come and made a starting name for himself. Richards was used to an advantage, as in the old days. Fortenberry and Burk were the hot-shots of the second game; although the high honors went to Young, Bulldog forward, big Joe followed a close second with eight. Clark held down his guard position in a great way.

All in all, this second twister with its thrills was the tightest game that has been played on the Buff court for some time, but action was at a premium in spots.

THE STRAIGHT OF IT

It is alleged that a schoolboy in Kansas wrote the following, entitled "An Editor."

"I don't know how newspapers and magazines got into the world, and I don't think God does, for He ain't got nothing to say about these in the Bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of, and that he stayed in the business until after the flood, came out and wrote the thing up and has been kept busy ever since. If the editor makes a mistake folks say he ought to be hung; but if the doctor makes mistakes, he buries them and people don't say nothing because they can't read Latin. When the editor makes mistakes, there is a big lawsuit and swearing, and a big fuss; but if the doctor makes one, there is a funeral with flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anyone else knowing what it means; but if the editor uses one, he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit; but if the editor goes, he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make doctors to order, but editors have to be born."

PENNY CAN HIDE A MOUNTAIN
A penny, held close to the eye, can hide a lot of real savings only an arm's length away.

Haven't you sometimes said, after trouble with a "bargain:" "I wish I had spent a little more for this in the first place."

It isn't the first cost of a "cheap" thing; it's the upkeep. Real economy compares values as well as prices.

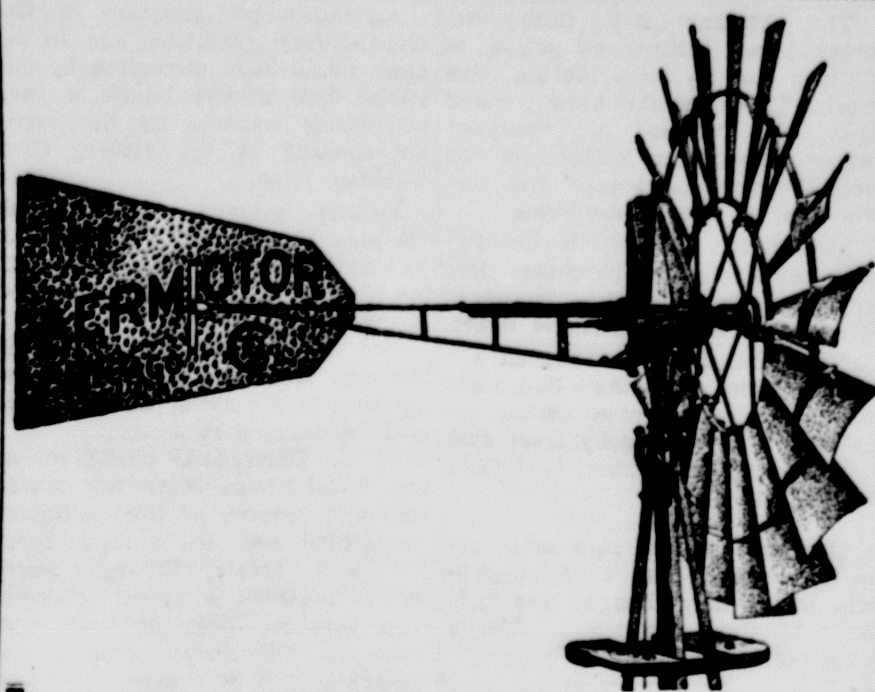

A barber was shaving a new customer. "Haven't I shaved you before, sir?" said he. "No," said the customer, "I got those scars in France."

The Labor party does not sell peerages or any of the more trifling honors so attractive to people who have the misfortune to be insignificant naturally.—Countess of Warwick, England.

An economical way to protect haystacks—

Other Uses for SISALKRAFT
Lining chicken houses to keep out wind and dampness
Under hardwood floors
Dry sheet understucco
Over cinder fill in concrete floors of garage, basement, poultry house, etc.
Over sheathing in brick veneer, shingle or siding construction
Lining silos built of slat fence
Protecting plants against frost
Curing and protecting concrete floors of all kinds—sidewalks, curbs, gutters, etc. and dozens of others

A PAPER cap for haystacks may sound foolish. But when that paper is Sisalkraft—a tough, reinforced, waterproof sheet used in buildings of all kinds, over concrete floors and as a covering for almost anything exposed to the weather—it is a suggestion worth looking into.

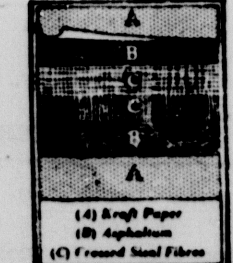

Hundreds of farmers have used Sisalkraft on haystacks year after year. It is low in cost, easy to apply, and it really keeps out the weather.

We have Sisalkraft in stock and can furnish illustrated instructions for its application.

Rotarians Hear Rural-Urban Talks Tuesday Meeting

An impromptu program by the Rural-Urban committee and an almost round-table discussion by the entire club proved to be a very interesting occasion at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Visitors present at the club Tuesday were: C. O. Williams, J. J. Sanders, Arthur Osgood, and C. R. Rogers, of Amarillo and Fred E. Wortham, Canyon.

The singing of the club was changed from the regular routine by song leader Doug Shirley. Several "rounds" were sung.

T. C. Thompson, chairman of the Rural-Urban committee stated that the purpose of the particular committee was to contact rural life and create through every means possible, a closer relationship between those in town and those in the rural communities. Rotary should be a means through which constructive work can be done to strengthen this relationship.

"One of our greatest needs at the present hour is the restoring of confidence," Mr. Thompson declared. "In this way Rotary can do much to bring about a restoration of confidence and lead to bringing back better times."

Rev. W. C. Kunze told of proposed plans for a closer relationship with the rural communities over the county by the Interchurch Council.

Prexy Joe Hill discussed what a closer relationship would mean to all. Others who spoke were Bill Bryant and "Doc" S. L. Ingham.

HEADINGS FOR NEWSPAPERS
Newspapers are discussing the prominence of newspaper headings, which in the big dailies have assumed box car proportions. Of course, where papers depend upon headings to sell copies, there is some excuse for immense streamers and headings but smaller papers, that do not expect street sales, are foolish to ape city styles that disfigure their front pages, and take up space.

A big heading to attract attention is all right, provided the news article following is of sufficient importance, but to put a big heading above a commonplace article is misleading, and if persisted in, soon loses its value as an attention compeller.

You have got to tell 'em if you want to sell 'em! ADVERTISE!!

College Opens Gymnasium to Men of Canyon

Now offered! What the tired business man has been wanting, an athletic club that is not a club but that does offer an opportunity for plenty of athletics.

The West Texas State Teachers College is throwing open the doors of its gymnasium to the business men of Canyon who are interested in basketball, boxing, wrestling, bar gymnastics and other forms of exercise, according to an announcement made this week by Mitchell Jones.

This is a courtesy extended by the college and is absolutely free to all business men who would like to participate. The object is to give the business men of the city a place for athletics of all sorts and to give them an opportunity of mixing with the college men and of making acquaintances among the two groups.

"The city men may participate in the intramural sports and may take up any branch of athletics they desire," said Mr. Jones. "Don't hesitate because of age. We will furnish checkers for those who are too old to take part in the strenuous sports. If you don't want to take part come out and root for your friends."

Those interested are invited to meet with Mr. Jones in the gym at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, January 18th. After 20 have enrolled hours will be arranged for play and games. These games will for the most part be played in the evening. Personal equipment in the way of suits, shoes, etc., must be purchased by the participant, but the sport equipment, and gym are absolutely free. The games will be planned in a round robin and no eliminations will be made of the losers. All teams will have the same number of games regardless of scores. While the men are urged to take part in as many games as possible, Mr. Jones urged that caution be employed in the workouts, especially at first, in order that stiff muscles be given time to limber up.

This invitation is something unprecedented in the life of the college and is something that gives promise to far reaching results both in personal welfare and in opening the way to a closer relationship between students and business men.

CORPORATIONS CAN NOT PAY TAXES!

In spite of all the political bunk to the contrary, the giant corporations do not, in the exact sense, pay taxes. They cannot.

This is unfortunate but it is true. The people pay the taxes—whether they be millionaires or day laborers, and there are a good many more day laborers than millionaires, even in boom times. They pay taxes when they write a check for the meat, electric or grocery bill, when they purchase a house and lot or a package of playing cards, when they eat a meal or go to a movie, when they smoke a cigarette or take a spin in the car.

Our gigantic corporations have no magical means of producing money from the air. They can get it only from the people to whom they sell their commodities or services. All costs necessary to the running of a business, whether they be taxes, labor or purchases of supplies, must be passed along to the customer. And the customer, in the aggregate, is all of us.

Consequently, next time you hear political demands for taxing the rich to help the poor, dismiss them for what they are usually worth—nothing. It would be pleasant if it were possible, but the inexorable laws of barter rule otherwise—and they are laws that politics can't repeal.

If matches are made in heaven, where do the cigar-lighters come from?

Every dog has his day, but it seems that nature reserved the nights for the cats.

Of course we all want our taxes reduced, but each wants his own lopped off first.

Charity should begin at home and stay there until there is a surplus for other people.

The more some people have the more they want and the more they cheat to get it.

Other famous last words: "If you kids open a single drawer upstairs, I'll spank you."

The hypocrite doesn't always masquerade in a false face. Some are quite transparent.

After thinking twice the wise man takes a third think and comes fairly close to being right.

A smile is like the bright spring grass. Easiest to produce, but most grateful to the eye.

Hale County Seeks $85,000.

Hale County set in motion late Saturday legal proceedings to recover on twelve surety bonds written in connection with the designation of the closed Plainview National Bank as depository for funds of the county. Williams & Day, attorneys for the plaintiffs, and Royce A. Oxford, county attorney filed an amended petition in lieu of their original petition filed in this court on November 21 wherein A. G. Hinn, J. D. Steakley, David Bates and D. H. Collier, and Frank A. Glanckenbecker, receiver, and the Plainview National Bank were made parties to a suit which seeks to collect on an $85,000 personal bond.

This bond had been given on school funds of the county, and an alternative plea provided that in event the county was found not entitled to recover $85,000, it is entitled to recover $46,300, the amount of money it alleges belongs to the various common school and two independent school districts in Hale county.

Not specifying the entire sum that is due the county, the new petition alleges that there was in the bank money belonging to Hale County, subject to the order of the county treasurer of the county and secured by all the bonds made by the surety companies the total sum of $247,795.80, and money in the bank belonging to Hale County and the school districts of Hale County who join in the suits, subject to the control of the county superintendent, $46,332.00 or more. None of this money, totaling approximately $295,000, has been paid, except $78,601.56 realized from the sale of securities deposited by the banks as part security for the performance of its obligations as depository. This sum credited on the total, leaves a balance of $169,224.26 or more, the petition alleges and seeks to recover this amount or more as proven with interest at six per cent from September 12, 1931, and costs of suit.—Plainview News.
